

Doctor Arturo Wong Reyes

Nefrology

Education and Specialty

Doctor Wong received his medical Diploma from the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Panama in 1977. In 1982, finished an Internal Medicine residency at the Manuel Amador Guerrero Hospital in Colón, Panama. In 1985, completed a residency in Nephrology and Renal Transplant at the Maracaibo University Hospital in Venezuela. In 1986, attended a Revision Course of Nephrology at the University of Los Angeles in Santa Monica, California. In 1987, attended the International Symposium of Transplants and Technological Advances in Havana, Cuba. In 1991, attended the Regional Meeting of Central America and Panama of the American College of Physicians.

Major Positions Held

Since 1985, Doctor Wong is the Director of the Hemodialysis Department of the Caribe Medical Center. Also, since 1985, he is the Director of the Hemodialysis Unit of the Santa Fe Hospital in Panama.

Memberships

Doctor Wong is a member of the International Society of Nephrology, a member of the International Society of Peritoneal Dialysis, a member of the Panamanian Internal Medicine Society, a member of the Panamanian Society of Nephrology and a member of the Panamanian National Medical Association.

Publications

Doctor Wong has been published by the Integral Health System of Colon, Panama. He has also been published by Clinical Investigation.