

Doctor Moisés Salomón Zebede Yohoros

Allergies and Asthma

Education and Specialty

Doctor Zebede received his medical degree from the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Panama in 1979. In 1980 attended a post graduated course in Pediatrics and a course in Clinical Therapeutic Pharmacology. In 1981, attended the Regional Course organized by the American College of Physicians. In 1984 completed a residency in Pediatrics at the Doctor Arnulfo Arias Madrid Metropolitan Hospital Complex of the Caja del Seguro Social. In 1986 attended a fellowship in Allergy and Immunology at the Georgetown University Hospital in Washington DC and the ADIS symposium at the same Hospital.

Major Positions Held

Doctor Zebede was Chief of Interns at the Nicolás Solano Hospital in Chorrera, Panama, from 1980 through 1981. Chief of Interns and Residents of the residency program of the Caja del Seguro Social from 1983 through 1984. President of the Central American Association of Allergy and Immunology in 1988. Chief of the Allergology and Immunology section of the Caja del Seguro Social in 1995. President of the Panamanian Association of Allergology and Clinical Immunology in 1998. In 2002 he served as Chief of the Pediatric Allergology Service of the Caja del Seguro Social.

Memberships

Doctor Zebede is a member of American Medical Association, the American College of Allergists, the American Academy of Allergy & Immunology, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Thoracic Society of Medical Section of the D. C. Lung Association, a member of the Joint council of Allergy & Immunology, the Asthma and Allergy Foundation, a member of the Central American Society of Allergy and Immunology and a member of the Latin American Association of Allergy.